POLITICAL ADVERTISING

A political cartoon by Phil Witte. A man in a suit, labeled 'SENATE' on his chest, is being nailed to a wooden plank labeled 'PLANK' by a man in a suit labeled 'COHEN'. The man being nailed is shouting 'AWE! THE SPLINTERS'. The man nailing him is shouting 'SAY! DIDN'T YOU KNOW THAT PERFECTLY GOOD PLANK IS MINE!! I PAID FOR IT!'. The plank is labeled 'PLANK' and 'COHEN'. There are signs on the ground: 'NOV. 5TH' with an arrow, 'COHEN BE NAILED!!', 'WITH HIS INTERESTS', and 'ITALIAN-SWISS COLONY'. In the background, there are buildings labeled 'SALOON'.

Fifth District Citizens Gather in Hundreds to Hear Hot Speeches

Speeches by Delegate Kuhlö and W. T. Rawlins featured one of the biggest meetings of the campaign, held by the Republicans last night in the thirtieth precinct of the Fifth district. The crowd was accommodated in a vacant lot and on the corner of School and Liliha streets five or six hundred people attended with probably 250 voters.

Close attention that was and the delegate greeted every speaker. The crowd stayed until nearly eleven o'clock.

Delegate Kuhlö said Hawaiian apply in both English campaign, dwelling upon the fact he is making for more liberalization of them.

liberal, that he is not fighting God personally.

ing. He's not a fight of personality—

"Fight of principle, for principle, it's all making," he said in his English speech. "We all sometimes disagree. I believed a certain thing and I fought for it and I tell you people that I will continue fighting for it in Congress. What is that thing? It is this: I am not against sugar, not against the plantations, but that the poorer classes of this territory have rights and must not be overlooked. And we must Americanize this territory. We must make room for people on the land. That's what I am fighting for. There's my record. I'm not ashamed of it. I am sincere in this fight."

This delegate branded as false some of McCandless's statements about the effect of sending a Democratic delegate to Congress: "Those people over there don't know conditions here," he said. "They will say, if we send a Democrat to Congress, that we endorse Democratic doctrine, and that is free trade."

Jarrett's Record Criticized.

Rawlins spoke eloquently for Capt. Parker, republican candidate for sheriff. Then he turned the batteries on Sheriff Jarrett.

"Why gentlemen," he said "in April, 1911, one of the leading Democrats of this territory wrote an open letter, published in the Bulletin on April 8, in which he declared that he and the community had lost confidence in Sheriff Jarrett. It was during the time when the Alaskan canneries sent the steamer Senator here for labor, and the police department was so disorganized and Jarrett so inefficient that Kinney himself said that the police wouldn't do their duty and stop the labor raiders. That's what one of our leading Democrats said about the Democratic candidate for sheriff." Rawlins told of cases where Capt. Parker's devotion to duty had been proved, and urged all to vote for him and to turn Jarrett out of office.

Commenting on recent police laxity, Rawlins said that on August 14, he, as attorney, saw a man who had been assaulted and badly beaten upon second plant for the arrest of the fan who had done the beating.

"I got a warrant from Police Judge Conzarat, walked down to the deputy sheriff's office, laid down the warrant and with it two teeth that had been knocked from my clients' mouth, and told the police where they could find the man for whom the warrant was out. That was on August 14, and today at 11 o'clock that warrant was lying in the safe at police headquarters. It hasn't been served. What do you know of that for police inefficiency?"

Col Sam Parker made quite a hit with the crowd, and incidentally one of the best speeches of his campaign. He took up the issue of a county hospital, declaring that if he were elected mayor, he would work for a county hospital that no Hawaiian would be afraid to go to, that he believed a hospital is a necessity now and that it should have been given the people before.

The Rev. Stephen L. Desha also carried the crowd with him in a speech on the entire campaign. Robert W. Shingle, chairman of the Republican territorial central committee, was another speaker who made a big impression on the voters. Incidentally, Shingle prophesied that Kahio will carry every precinct on Kauai, every precinct on Hawaii, and every precinct, with one possible exception, on Maui.

Judge Archie Mahaulu, of Wajalua, Henry Viera, S. K. Mahoe and others spoke. John Anderson made a capable presiding officer.

DEMOCRATS IN GOOD MEETING

Under the shelter of a large kiawe tree at Kallhi-waena with torch lights burning dimly on both sides of the speakers, the Democratic candidates last night addressed a good-sized crowd of electorate and their wives and children. There were more than two hundred people present, and the speakers, as they mounted the rostrum to address the audience, preached democracy.

The wahine quintet club helped the meeting considerably.

Lester Petrie, candidate for supervisor, told the audience that if elected in November he will do his duty.

Wm. H. McClellan, the lone Democrat in the Board of Supervisors, said that Mayor Fern had done well, considering the circumstances surrounding him.

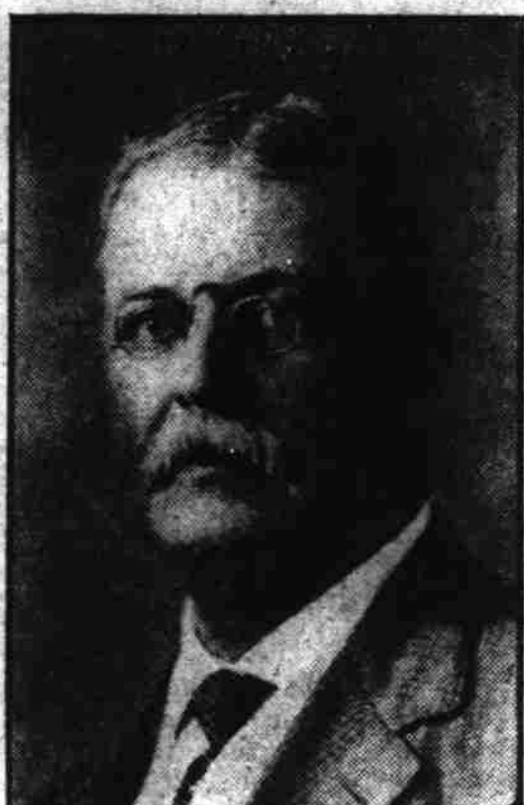

John Markham, introduced as the "ice man," made a brief and pointed talk and appealed for votes.

Sheriff Jarrett received the enthusiastic applause of the audience as he mounted the stand to address the crowd. A. J. Wirtz, for senator, appealed to the electorate to vote for a straight Democratic ticket. Instead of talking on local politics, he dwelt principally upon the national issues.

Col. C. J. McCarthy, for treasurer, made a good hit with the audience, who applauded him enthusiastically.

The other speakers were also well received.

GEORGE F. RENTON IS STRONG FOR THE SENATE

GEORGE F. BENTON

George F. Renton, Republican candidate for the senate from this island, is one of the polling a big vote on election day, as he is steadily gaining strength and has a host of friends of all classes. Renton was born in Koloala and resided there and in Hamakua until 1898, when he came to Honolulu as manager of Ewa plantation. He has been a plantation manager for 27 years, but though identified with the sugar industry, he has worked for the good of all the Territory. This is his first candidacy for office. He is 49 years old, but his public life has been short. He was a delegate to the last Republican national convention and has been a lifelong Republican. Renton believes in a public utilities commission, changes in the land laws and desires that he elected he will do his utmost to carry out all the pledges in the Republican platform.

The Democrats are still pinning their faith to that old saw "where there's life there's 'dope'" but not Link's.
